Key Knowledge

Our Special People

We all have people who are special to us. These will be different for everyone, but will include our family and our friends. These are people who we care about and who care about us. They help us to feel loved, safe, healthy and happy.

Showing We Care

We can show our special people we care for them in many ways. We can be kind to them and help them. We know our special people care for us if they make us feel safe, make us feel respected and show we can trust them.

Key Vocabulary

VIPs

Very Important Persons. These will be different for everyone, but will include family and friends. They are people who we care about and trust, who help us to feel safe and who we enjoy spending time with.

Families

We all belong to a family group and these may be big or small. Our family is a group of people who are special to us. Our family groups will all be slightly different and this is something to be celebrated.

Falling Out with Others

Falling out happens when two or more people have a disagreement. It can make us feel sad, worried or angry. It is important to speak about our feelings and find ways to move forward and solve the problem. We might take some time to calm down, count to 10 and take deep breaths and use kind words and calm voices to explain how we feel and what might help.

Trusted Adult

Our trusted adults are adults who are special to us and whom we know we can talk to. It is important we have trusted adults that we know will be there for us and who will help us if we are worried or concerned about anything.

Working Together

When we cooperate with others, we can achieve wonderful things. When we cooperate, we need to listen to each other, share jobs that need to be done, help each other and listen to how we are each feeling.
